

THE SCOTTISH ROCK GARDEN CLUB

www.srgc.net

A SELECTION OF SPECIALIST NURSERIES

It's a truism that the more the years stack up the harder gardening becomes even if you think you're enjoying it (and I know!). The advantage the average gardener has (and some of us are very average) is if on the days you don't fancy it you don't have to do it. Not so if you happen to run a small/specialist nursery. Come hail, rain or shine you've a crust to earn; a Show to pack up the van for; a stack of cuttings to pot up and the pots to wash before you can start. It's a hard old game but I'm pretty certain that many of the ones who do it find it rewarding in many ways (apart from totting up the bank statement perhaps?).

Those of us who consume the product in numbers; those of us who spend hours wandering around the Nursery and then spend £3, all have a lot to thank small and specialist nurserymen and women for. And as consumers we value them greatly.

An important part of our Club's Mission is to try to support and promote our small and specialist nurseries wherever we can and this is the reason we have produced this Listing. We hope you will find it interesting, enjoyable and useful.

Our Club operates, and operates very well indeed, because in order to get things done "volunteers" turn up for all kinds of functions. This was not a process that would readily lend itself to a "committee job". Thus, the material contained in this has an element of the personal to it. Many of those listed here have had a share of my children's future inheritance (such as it might be!) and I have been pleased with the quality of both the service and the products. Many too I have dealt with in my capacity as SRGC's volunteer advertising manager. Others I have not been able to deal with in that way but would very much like to and regretfully some others never reply to my emails but hopefully will in the future if only to keep me quiet. Some of those listed I have gleaned from the Links pages on the SRGC Forum and from discussion on the Forum itself.

It could never be "the" definitive article though and makes no pretence to be so. If you don't find one, or more, of your favourite nurseries here then let me know and if I ever produce another version in the future they will be. If you run a nursery and haven't been included but would have liked to have been, equally let me know.

David Nicholson
