EVENTS

Early Bulb Display 20 February - Dunblane

The speakers this year are Neil Huntley of Hartside Nursery on Roscoas, Ian Christie on Trilliums and Alan McMurtrie on Reticulata Irises. Neil and Alan are expert growers who are well known to members, Alan is best known to Reticulate Iris enthusiasts. In 2010 he was awarded the British Iris Society's Foster Memorial Plaque for his work. This is the society's highest award. He has spent decades hybridising the different species of the reticulate section and has raised some amazingly beautiful plants. Those at last spring's Early Bulb would have seen on the benches and John Amand's stand, half a dozen or so of his hybrids. This is a rare opportunity to learn from three masters on one day. Don't forget to bring your plants for the display!

Late Bulb Penrith Weekend "A Celebration of Cyclamen" 24 & 25th September

The SRGC and The Cyclamen Society are cooperating to offer our members a special weekend of talks centred on the genus Cyclamen. The venue is Evergreen Hall in Penrith. The M6 and the West Coast Railway network serve Penrith.

The talks will cover cultivation of Cyclamen in the UK and the Netherlands with the results of the many expeditions sponsored by the CS. Over the years the Society has studied most Cyclamen species in the wild. We will learn about the new research carried out at Reading University, how species are related and how research has identified new species of Cyclamen. Complimenting this new scientific work will be two more general talks on the bulbous plants of Greece.

To keep costs for those attending to a minimum we are not arranging overnight accommodation. Members should bring their own picnic lunches. There are supermarkets, shops and restaurants near the hall. There are many hotels and B&B's in the area.

Full details will be in the July Secretary's Pages and online at the SRGC website srgc.net to be kept in touch or for a list of local hotels contact: Barry Caudwell; telephone 01828 686709 or E-mail f.b.caudwell@fireflyuk.net

Young SRGC

Over the last few months a group of young(ish) people have got together in an informal group that has come to be known as 'Young SRGC'. It started as mainly people in horticulture, predominantly students, in their 20s and 30s. The age range spread as it was realised that many horticultural students are career changers, and the news is now reaching other interested people.

There is no formal structure, just a list of emails and a Facebook page. So far they have met once, with about 20 people meeting for a day near Edinburgh for a practical session on seed cleaning (very popular), short talks from three of the group about their activities, a talk from an 'oldie' about raising plants from seed, a hike, and of course food and drink.

Graham Gunn, who initiated the group with Marcus Melin, says "I found that there was a large interest in the meeting even for people outside of horticulture. I feel as though this group could utilise the huge amount of knowledge within the SRGC and help bring in new members. This is particularly important to some of the younger people who may not be interested in the traditional lecture style of meeting and want to learn and meet in different ways."

There are now nearly 60 people who have expressed interest, and future meetings will take place wherever there are people who want to meet together. As that first event had participants from China, America and even England, we hope that this will benefit other societies, not just the SRGC.

If you are interested, send an email to Graham (grahamgunn58@hotmail.com), and follow the Facebook page.

Email addresses

The club would like to use email as an efficient way of communicating with members. If you are happy for us to do this, please send an email to emails@srgc.net. Just give your name, or in the case of several family members using the same email address, all of the names. And if there are likely to be several members sharing your name, please provide another piece of information to identify yourself.

The information will only be used for club business, and will not be passed to any other person or organisation.

If you are a member of council or a group convener or a show secretary, or you signed up at the AGM, or you are an electronic member of the SRGC, we already know about you!

If you don't use email, you will still receive communications. Thank you. And thanks to Petra Palkova, one of the Young SRGC members, who offered to collate all the addresses.

Heeeeeeeelp!

We want to involve more people in the wide-ranging activities that make our club so vibrant, and would like lots of people contributing, maybe in small ways. And some of these contributions can be made from a distance – so all our members around the world can have active roles in the club.

There are some specific roles to be filled, but we would also like to know of talents that you have that could be used.

Specific

Minutes Secretary – two council meetings a year plus the AGM

Secretary – from November 2016

Seed exchange packeting – organisation of the packeting. The packeting itself is shared between lots of people, but we need someone to take overall responsibility.

General

Computer skills – websites, databases, conferencing. We already have a committed team, but this area continues to develop, and it changes fast. We can use people with specific technical knowledge of such things as stylesheets, JavaScript, responsive web, etc., but willingness to contribute to the content of the website will also be most welcome. That doesn't require any specialist skills.

Similarly, we would welcome anyone who is willing to write press articles, or to take photographs at shows (and other events). And there is a continuing need for material for both the printed journal, the Rock Garden, and for the on-line International Rock Gardener.

Don't be shy! Please let us know how you might be able to help. Email Carol Shaw, the secretary, findhorncarol@icloud.com or David Rankin, president, d.w.h.rankin@ed.ac.uk.

JAMIE TAGGART AN APPRECIATION

In early November 2013, Jamie Taggart of the Linn Botanic Gardens in Cove, Argyll went missing on a plant-finding trip to the mountains of northern Vietnam. He had returned alone to an area where he had been two years previously, hoping to explore at a higher altitude. In spite of searches his whereabouts remained unknown until very recently when a body with his personal items nearby was found. It is believed he may have fallen, a tragic end to the life of a dedicated plantsman. Jamie took over the running of the garden from his father in 1997, having trained at Benmore Botanic Garden, Auchencruive and Glenarn, then on the botany degree course at Glasgow University. He introduced a greater generic and species diversity to the gardens, already home to many rare and unusual rhododendrons; fern cultivation was one of his interests and he developed a large scree area for southern hemisphere plants, all of which thrived in the mild climate and sheltered conditions of the garden. Before Phytophthora, the Glasgow show was much enhanced by his wonderful displays of rhododendrons. Jamie's death is an irreplaceable loss to his family and friends.

The MINUTES of the AGM held at Old Scone Church Hall on Saturday 14 November 2015 appear below. Please note that the publication of these Minutes in the Secretary's Pages means that no copies will be issued at the 2015 AGM.

PLEASE RETAIN THESE FOR FUTURE REFERENCE.!

Minutes of the Annual General Meeting of the Scottish Rock Garden Club held on 14th November 2015 at Old Scone Church Hall, Scone at 1 p.m.

The President, Dr Carole Bainbridge welcomed 58 members to the Annual General Meeting of the Scottish Rock Garden Club and thanked all for coming. Sadly the President reported the deaths of 27 members during the year including Michael Upward, a former Secretary of the Alpine Garden Society, Jill Sleigh, who was a Council Member of the SRGC, and Secretary to the 'Alpines 1981' Joint International Conference, David Boyd, a well-known grower and shower from Powburn, Northumberland and Jane Machin, an Edinburgh Member, latterly from Jersey.

1. Apologies had been received from Christine Boulby, Lynn and Ron Bezzant, Helen Donald, Audrey Leach, Bob Moore, Alan & Colline Souter, Sam Sutherland, Jackie Thomlinson, Pat Watson

2. Minutes of the Annual General Meeting, 15 November 2014 held in the Old Scone Church Hall.

Bette Ivey proposed acceptance, David Shaw seconded and members approved.

3. Matters Arising There were no matters arising.

4. The President's Review of the Year

The President said that times were challenging for clubs managed by volunteers. Changing lifestyles had resulted in falling membership numbers and income. However 2015 had seen the Club perform better than many clubs with the Club's finances still in good shape and membership holding up with only a slight decline over the year. Thanks were due to many who help manage the affairs for keeping the Club on the right track. She thanked Council, all the members who had worked hard to keep the Club running smoothly, and in particular, she thanked the retiring Council members, Ian Christie, Bob Moore and Sam Sutherland, who had contributed so much to Council during their three year term of office. Their experience and sound advice had been invaluable.

The Club's Minute Secretary, Ann Brown was also retiring as of this AGM; she deserved the admiration of all for making sense of Council minutes and recording the AGM accurately. The Club needs a replacement Minutes Secretary so anyone who would like to take on this role was asked to 'make yourself known'. In the summer, Bette Ivey, Honorary President, announced that she wished to stand down from her position as Chair of the Exploration Fund after many years' service as soon as there was a replacement. Another retiree was Stuart Pawley, the Seed Reception Manager, who had effectively managed the seed donations and produced the catalogue for the Seed Exchange. The President expressed her thanks to all for their contributions to the Club.

A further person had finally decided that it was time to retire. Jean Wyllie had volunteered for many years providing lunch for Council and Finance Committee meetings – her cheese scones had become legendary. On behalf of Council, the President thanked her for all her work – she would be very greatly missed.

As of early November, the current membership of the Club is 2,401 (total of paper and electronic members). Last year the total was 2,495. Over the year we therefore had experienced a continuing small decline in numbers. The option of electronic membership had resulted in some switches from paper membership to electronic membership and indeed some new members were joining through the electronic system. This seemed to be a more popular membership route for new overseas members.

The Club is registered as a Scottish Charity and as such the focus is on fostering an interest in rock and woodland plants, to spread knowledge of such plants and to encourage their cultivation. This education aspect of the Club's objectives underpins all activities but especially the main methods of communicating with both members and the general public through the Journal and the SRGC web site.

During the past year the web site and forum have remained as active and popular as ever. In addition as more people use social media, the Club's online presence includes a Facebook page and a Twitter account. She thanked the web team, Ian and Maggi Young and Fred Carrie for the enormous amount of work they did on behalf of the Club in developing and managing the Club's online activities.

The online membership system had recently been redesigned and the number of members receiving all Club material electronically had increased steadily. A number of those who previously received paper communications had switched to electronic membership. The Club now had 187 electronic members and expects this trend to continue in the future.

Looking back at the two issues of The Rock Garden produced in 2015, the Editor provided members with a feast for the eyes and an opportunity to explore a wide range of alpine information – from cultivation of Meconopsis and daffodils, reports of trips to far flung places and those not so far flung such as Ian Christie's trip to Golspie, to articles on plant groups – the mix of articles was superb and the standard of photography outstanding. The President thanked Anton Edwards for providing members with such an informative and well produced duo of Journals.

The Club continued to provide financial support to individuals through the Exploration Fund and the Diana Aitchison Fund. In 2015 the Exploration Fund provided support to six individuals covering trips to Bhutan, the Western Cape of South Africa, Sichuan and a field trip to various locations to study Pulsatillas. In recent years applications to the Diana Aitchison Fund had been disappointing; however in 2015, following an improved publicity drive, applications to the fund increased and twelve individual awards were made to enable young people to gain experience and knowledge to help them in their horticultural careers. The President thanked all those who served on those committees and especially to Bette Ivey for her work in chairing the Exploration Fund, Ron McBeath the chair of the Diana Aitchison Fund and Julia Corden, the Diana Aitchison Fund administrator.

2015 was a challenging year for those members who participated in the shows. A mild start to the season was followed by a long cold spell. This resulted in a strange mix of plants on the show benches with some plants flowering very late and others very early. However, despite the odds, the growers and showers produced some wonderful plants and all the shows provided an amazing showcase of alpine plants. This year the Stirling show at Kincardine was visited and filmed by the Beechgrove Garden team with the resulting SRGC piece being shown later in the spring. The President thanked Sam Sutherland for all his efforts to organise this show.

The Beechgrove Garden piece had promoted the Club and its shows to a wide audience encouraging others to be interested in alpine plants. All shows are open both to the membership and the general public except for the Discussion Weekend Show. However, not everyone can attend the shows in person. Several members post pictures of the shows on the web site and forum so that more distant enthusiasts can join in. She thanked particularly Sandy Leven for his reports on the web and Stan da Prato for rapidly posting pictures from the shows to the forum.

The Gardening Scotland team was now a well-experienced, co-ordinated unit pulling in expertise and resources from all over Scotland. This year the display was their best yet and was rewarded by the judges with a Gold Medal, their third gold in a row. She congratulated everyone who helped and thanked all for their hard work in promoting the Club with such a wonderful demonstration of rock garden plants.

The 2015 Discussion Weekend was held for the third and last time at Grantown-on-Spey. As in previous years the weekend was fully booked and the welcome from the staff at the Grant Arms was very warm. The programme included several speakers 'new to Scotland' as well as some well-known faces. The subjects were wide ranging from plants of the Newfoundland Barrens to breeding hardy orchids in the Netherlands. Delegates came from the length and breadth of the UK with the addition of a few overseas delegates. In supporting individuals, the SRGC again provided a bursary for a free place for a first time delegate to the weekend conference. The President thanked Carol and David Shaw and their team who organised the venue, the bookings and the show and thanked Ian Bainbridge for organising the programme and speakers.

2015 saw the distribution process for the Seed Exchange move to the South West Scotland Group and on a snowy, wet day in January several of the Edinburgh Group distribution team ventured south to help guide the new team through the process. The new venue for the distribution at Threave Gardens proved to be ideal and the new team soon settled into a routine completing the seed distribution well before the end of January. Stuart Pawley acted as Seed Reception Manager and Ian Pryde organised the seed packers. Ian has indicated he wishes to stand down so the Club is looking for a new seed packeting manager. The President thanked all who helped with the Seed Exchange and thanked all those who had helped develop the process in the past.

2015 marked Carole's last year as President of the Scottish Rock Garden Club and she thanked all the members and officials who had given her support and made the last three years such an enjoyable and special time. Carole Bainbridge said she had been honoured to serve as President and hoped that the next President would also have an enjoyable and rewarding term of office.

8.Changes to the Constitution

The President outlined the main changes;

- The deadline for nominations to Council - no later than thirty days before the Annual General Meeting
- The President Elect to be elected the year prior to taking office & to serve for two years on Council after relinquishing office
- Working Groups to be set up as & when necessary from members of Council rather than standing committees
- Clearer text and a more logical format.

There were no questions. Anton Edwards proposed acceptance of the new constitution, Liz Mills seconded the motion and the meeting unanimously agreed.

9.Consideration & Adoption of Accounts

All members present received a copy of the statement of the Club's financial activity and balance sheet. The full accounts were available for inspection.

Richard Green stated that Finance Committee and Council had reviewed in detail the accounts.

- The restricted fund was the Diana Aitchison Fund and more money had been distributed during the year hence more had been expended.
- The unrestricted fund covered the day to day income and expenses of the Club. The income was less than in 2014 as no bequest had been received in the year.
- Most of the money had been spent on educational activities and the Journal.
- Membership was slowly declining so must find new sources of income.
- On the 30th June the Club had fixed assets of £436,121 (including the Diana Aitchison Fund).
- Cash was held in five different banks
- Creditors are those paying 3 year subscriptions.

The Treasurer said that the Club was in a fairly healthy financial position.

He showed pie charts demonstrating clearly the percentage money received and expended by the Club.

Income – 75% subscriptions, 10% investments, 8% Gift Aid, 6% donations, 1% Prizes

Expenditure – 47% Journal, 21% Administration, 3% Publications, 10% Sponsorship, 6% Web, 5% Discussion Weekend, 3% Gardening Scotland, 3% Travelling Speaker, 2% Shows

The Treasurer recommended the accounts for approval.

Julia Corden proposed acceptance and adoption of the accounts; Ann Christie seconded the motion and the meeting approved.

14. New President

Carole Bainbridge, retiring President, welcomed the new President, Prof David Rankin and handed over the symbols of office – the President's badge, the Presidential Salver and Picture.

The President thanked Carole Bainbridge for her huge amount of work and organisational ability.

Bette Ivey, Hon. President presented the retiring President with a bouquet.

The President presented Stuart Pawley, formerly the Seed Reception Manager, with a small token of appreciation for his service to the Club – he had been a hard taskmaster, known for the accuracy of the seed list with its 'quirky page'.

He said he was inheriting a Club in good shape. He recalled the early days of the club but it must adapt to face the changing world and move forward without losing the old members but gaining the young. Already a group had evolved through the use of the social media with 60 on its mailing list. There were now three young members on the new Council.

New members must be welcomed and all members must get involved or the inheritance of the past will be lost. He appealed for members to join the E mailing list to make communication easier.

The President looked forward to an exciting year.

15. Date & Place of Annual General Meeting in 2016

Ian Bainbridge proposed that the Annual General Meeting 2016 should be held at the Old Scone Church Hall, Scone on 12th November 2016 at 1 pm Sue Simpson seconded and the meeting approved. *
